

Disability Support Services Education: The Role of Applicable Law and Technology in the Post-Secondary Setting—A Dual Track Program

Alabama AHEAD is sponsoring a training program to educate professionals in the disability support service field about the role of applicable law and technology in the post-secondary setting. The program will be presented in a dual track format to accommodate the experience level of the participants. Presenters will discuss the ADA and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as it applies to post-secondary training, as well as accessible online learning for students with disabilities. The program will conclude with a question and answer panel forum to allow participants to interact with professionals in the field and to interact with one another.
